Cargo Inspection Center

A photograph showing two yellow cargo trucks at a Cargo Inspection Center. The trucks are positioned under a large yellow gantry structure. The truck on the left is a smaller Mercedes-Benz Sprinter, and the truck on the right is a larger Mercedes-Benz Actros. Both trucks have their headlights on. The background shows a clear sky and some airport infrastructure.

Official operations of the Cargo Inspection Center at Queen Alia International Airport (QAIA) commenced on the 15th of December 2013.

The center is being managed by Jordan Airports Company (JAC), will be able to inspect cargo shipped through QAIA in a much safer and faster manner than using traditional X-ray machines.

Duty Free Area alongside QAIA

Free Zones Company signed an agreement with JAC to rent 300 Dunums of JAC's project around Queen Alia International Airport; to develop a multi-use free zone area (industrial, commercial and services). The area will attract and fulfill the requirements of the investors in these diverse sectors to serve the national economy and the business development plans of the company at Jordan's main gateway QAIA in line with logistics offering in this area.

The total cost to develop this area is approximately 3 million Jordanian Dinars, taking into consideration that the second phase of the project includes a future expansion to double the size of the free zone area to reach 600 dunums. The project is expected to attract 100 million dinars of different investment activities and provide 3,000 direct and indirect employments.

Joint Use Agreement with RJAF

To fulfill the requirements of all stakeholders and regulate the civil and military use of Amman Civil Airport; JAC has signed a Joint Use Agreement with Royal Jordanian Air Force to apply best practices in managing and operating mixed use airports. The agreement specified the obligations and requirements of each party to ensure smooth air traffic movement and prioritize the activities on a secure, safe and commercial basis.

Emergency Exercise at ACA

Based on the international requirements of the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) and the requirements of the National Program for Civil Aviation Security, Jordan Airports Company conducted an emergency exercise (fire incident at an aircraft on the ground) at Amman Civil Airport on Tuesday, September 3rd 2013, with the participation of all stakeholders. The purpose of conducting this exercise is to increase the ability of the airport to respond to emergencies related to aircraft accidents and incidents. A comprehensive assessment was conducted to determine the extent of the application of the emergency plan by stakeholders operating at the airport and various supporting organizations from the outside and to make sure to that the operations are sustained at all facilities according to all local and international applicable regulations.

Thank you, Ms. Haya

Sixty Eight years-old, a devoted woman who spent half of her age spreading happiness and hope in each corner of Amman Civil Airport, The Housekeeper, Ms. Haya Juma'a.

When meeting Ms. Haya you can feel the high values and diligence toward her job and employees satisfaction. She is the first soldier to open the door of a new day and last one to leave her second home. She takes her role at the airport to the next level by spreading the spirit of optimism and devotion.

On the 6th of December 2013, Ms. Haya was hosted by Jordan Television as special guest at Yes'ed Sabahak (Good Morning) Program to illustrate this significant example to the Jordanian audience. She has greatly explained her solid motivation which comes from the love of people around her.
